Dear Charley:

Re: [ ]

25X1A In view of recent decision to have us do all processing for P-E at [ ] as well as at [ ] I have the following comments. 25X1A

I assume Hqs. will desire to have all OX activities hidden from Hycon. Are they to be barred from [ ] or are you going to try to segregate activities? I believe this latter to be impractical unless you build new facilities. P-E will need the equipment room and we will need the processing room. Once barred is Hycon going to return for activities in connection with CHAL? If so, do we have to remove all evidence (tools, machines, chemicals, film) of our activities each time? 25X1A

25X1A [ ] Regardless of what solution you pick, all personnel at [ ] must be briefed not to discuss the presence of P-E or our employees with friends at Hycon.

When you have resolved the security problems, I would like to send a supervisor and a couple of men to clean up [ ] thoroughly, check and repair machines and determine what is needed to support the testing. Hycon should remove all company owned gear. We will assume everything left is project owned and either store or utilize. 25X1A

After this is done we will reduce our force to the minimum necessary (probably no more than two men) whose length of stay will be determined by P-E requirements. I doubt if this will have to be a permanent assignment at this time. If it is we will want to rotate the men from time to time.
